Feedback Analysis

In this situation of a global health crisis, the virtual system of learning has proved its merits. As the technology advances, this system is here to stay. But, accepting the virtual method doesn't mean rejecting the traditional classroom pedagogy. The convenience and low-cost model of virtual learning.

The virtual learning and classroom lessons have their own importance. In these times of pandemic, virtual learning is more important so that the education of students is not hindered.. They are able to learn new skills and upgrading themself. Thus, both forms of teachings have their own place.

Conclusion:

The Students of Banking and Insurance gave broad outlook to Participants regarding the Concepts like Privatisation v/s Nationalisation, Public Sector Banks v/s Private Sector Banks, Regional Rural Bank, EXIM Bank, Foreign Exchange, Recent Banking Frauds, Customer Satisfaction, Banking Challenge. At the end Students and the Faculty got enriched with the in depth knowledge of Various Concepts related to Banking sector and Overall View of the Banking System Prevailing in our Country.

Bank Nationalisation day

NATIONALISATION OF BANK

Meaning

- ❖ Nationalization refers to the transfer of public sector assets to be operated or owned by the state or central government.
- ❖ In India, the banks which were previously functioning under private sector were transferred to the public sector by the act of nationalization and thus the nationalized banks came into existence.

Why do we nationalize bank

Banks were asked to push funds towards sectors that government wanted to target for growth. Indira Gandhi told the Lok Sabha on 29 July 1969 that the "purpose of nationalization is to promote rapid growth in agriculture, small industries and export, to encourage new entrepreneurs and to develop all backward areas".

PRIVATISATION OF BANK

Meaning

- ❖ Privatization describes the process by which a piece of property or business goes from being owned by the government to being privately owned.
- ❖ It generally helps governments save money and increase efficiency, where private companies can move goods quicker and more efficiently.

Impact of Privatisation

Privatisation effects depend on several factors such as, how to use its revenue sources. Studies show that the positive effects of privatisation are high efficiency, financial markets improvement, production increasing and distribution of income and wealth improvement in society
