History of Sajjangarh fort

- Sajjangad, meaning "Fort of Good People", is located near the city of Satara, India. It is the final resting place of Sant Ramdas in 18th century India (born 1608). His teachings and works written in books such as Dasbodh<sup>[1]</sup> are read and followed by many people even today in the state of Maharashtra and Sajjangad is a popular place of pilgrimage. The fort was built by Bahamani rulers in between (1347-1527). Later (1527-1586) it came in possession of the Adilshahi dynasty. This fort was captured by Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj on 2 April 1663 from Adilshah. Previously known as Parali, it was renamed Sajjangad. Fateh-ullahakhan's army encircled the fort on 21 April 1700 and finally captured it on 6 June 1700. After it became the part of Mughal empire, it was renamed as "Navrastara". This fort was again won by Marathas. It remained in Maratha hands until the demise of the Maratha empire by the British in 1818.
