Date: July 18, 2024

Time: 09:10 AM

Venue: Classroom no. 204

Speaker: Asst. Prof. Ajay Yadav

Introduction: The orientation aimed to acquaint FYBAMMC students with our college website and its indispensable features, essential for your academic journey and success. It served as a platform for students to gain valuable insights on utilizing the various tools and resources available on our website effectively.

Objectives:

- The session aims to familiarize you with the college website and student related tabs essential for your academic journey.
- Introduce the website and its functionalities.
- Familiarize students with essential tools and resources.
- Ensure students understand how to navigate and utilize the website effectively.
- Make students aware and familiar with course outcomes and program outcome

Outcomes:

- Students gained a comprehensive understanding of the college website, including its main features and functionalities relevant to their academic journey. This included accessing student portals, course registration systems, and academic calendars.
- Participants were familiarized with essential tools and resources available on the website. This included online library resources, academic advising services, student support services, and other resources crucial for academic success.
- Students developed skills to navigate the website effectively. They learnt how to locate information, use search functions efficiently, and access important documents and forms necessary for their academic requirements.

- The orientation session ensured that students understand how to utilize various features of the website to enhance their academic experience. This included practical guidance on using student-related tabs, submitting assignments online, and staying updated with campus announcements.
- Students will be able to articulate the specific learning objectives and outcomes for each course they are enrolled in. This includes being able to explain how these outcomes contribute to their overall academic and professional development.
- By the end of the session, participants were well-prepared to leverage the college website as a fundamental tool for their academic journey.

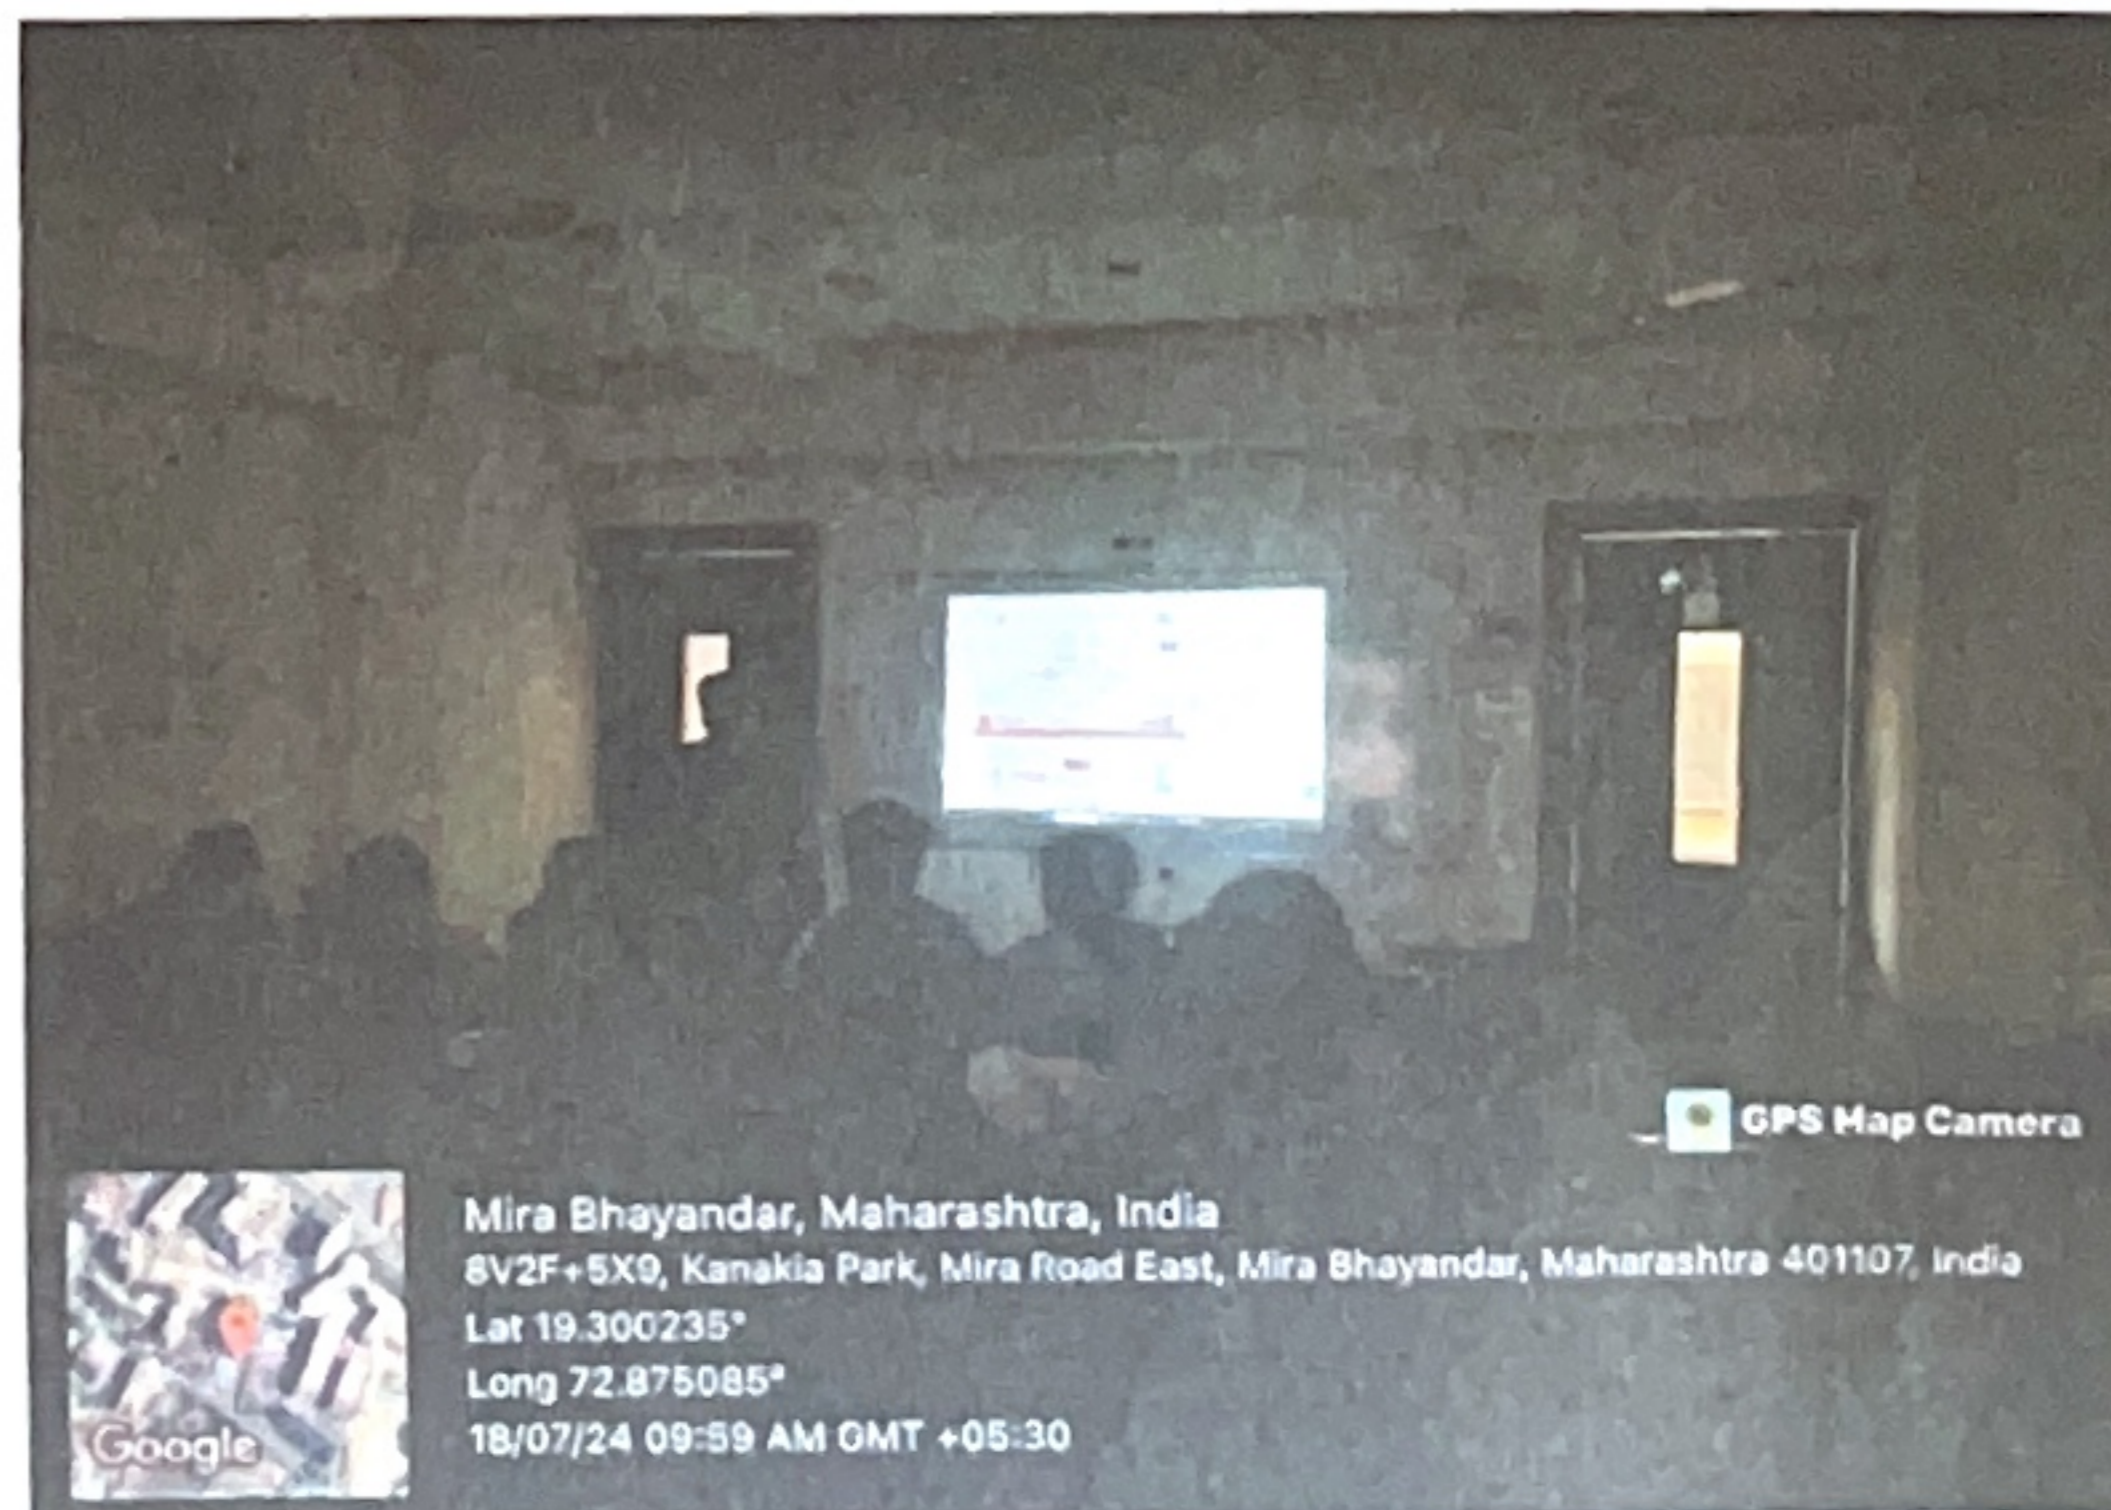

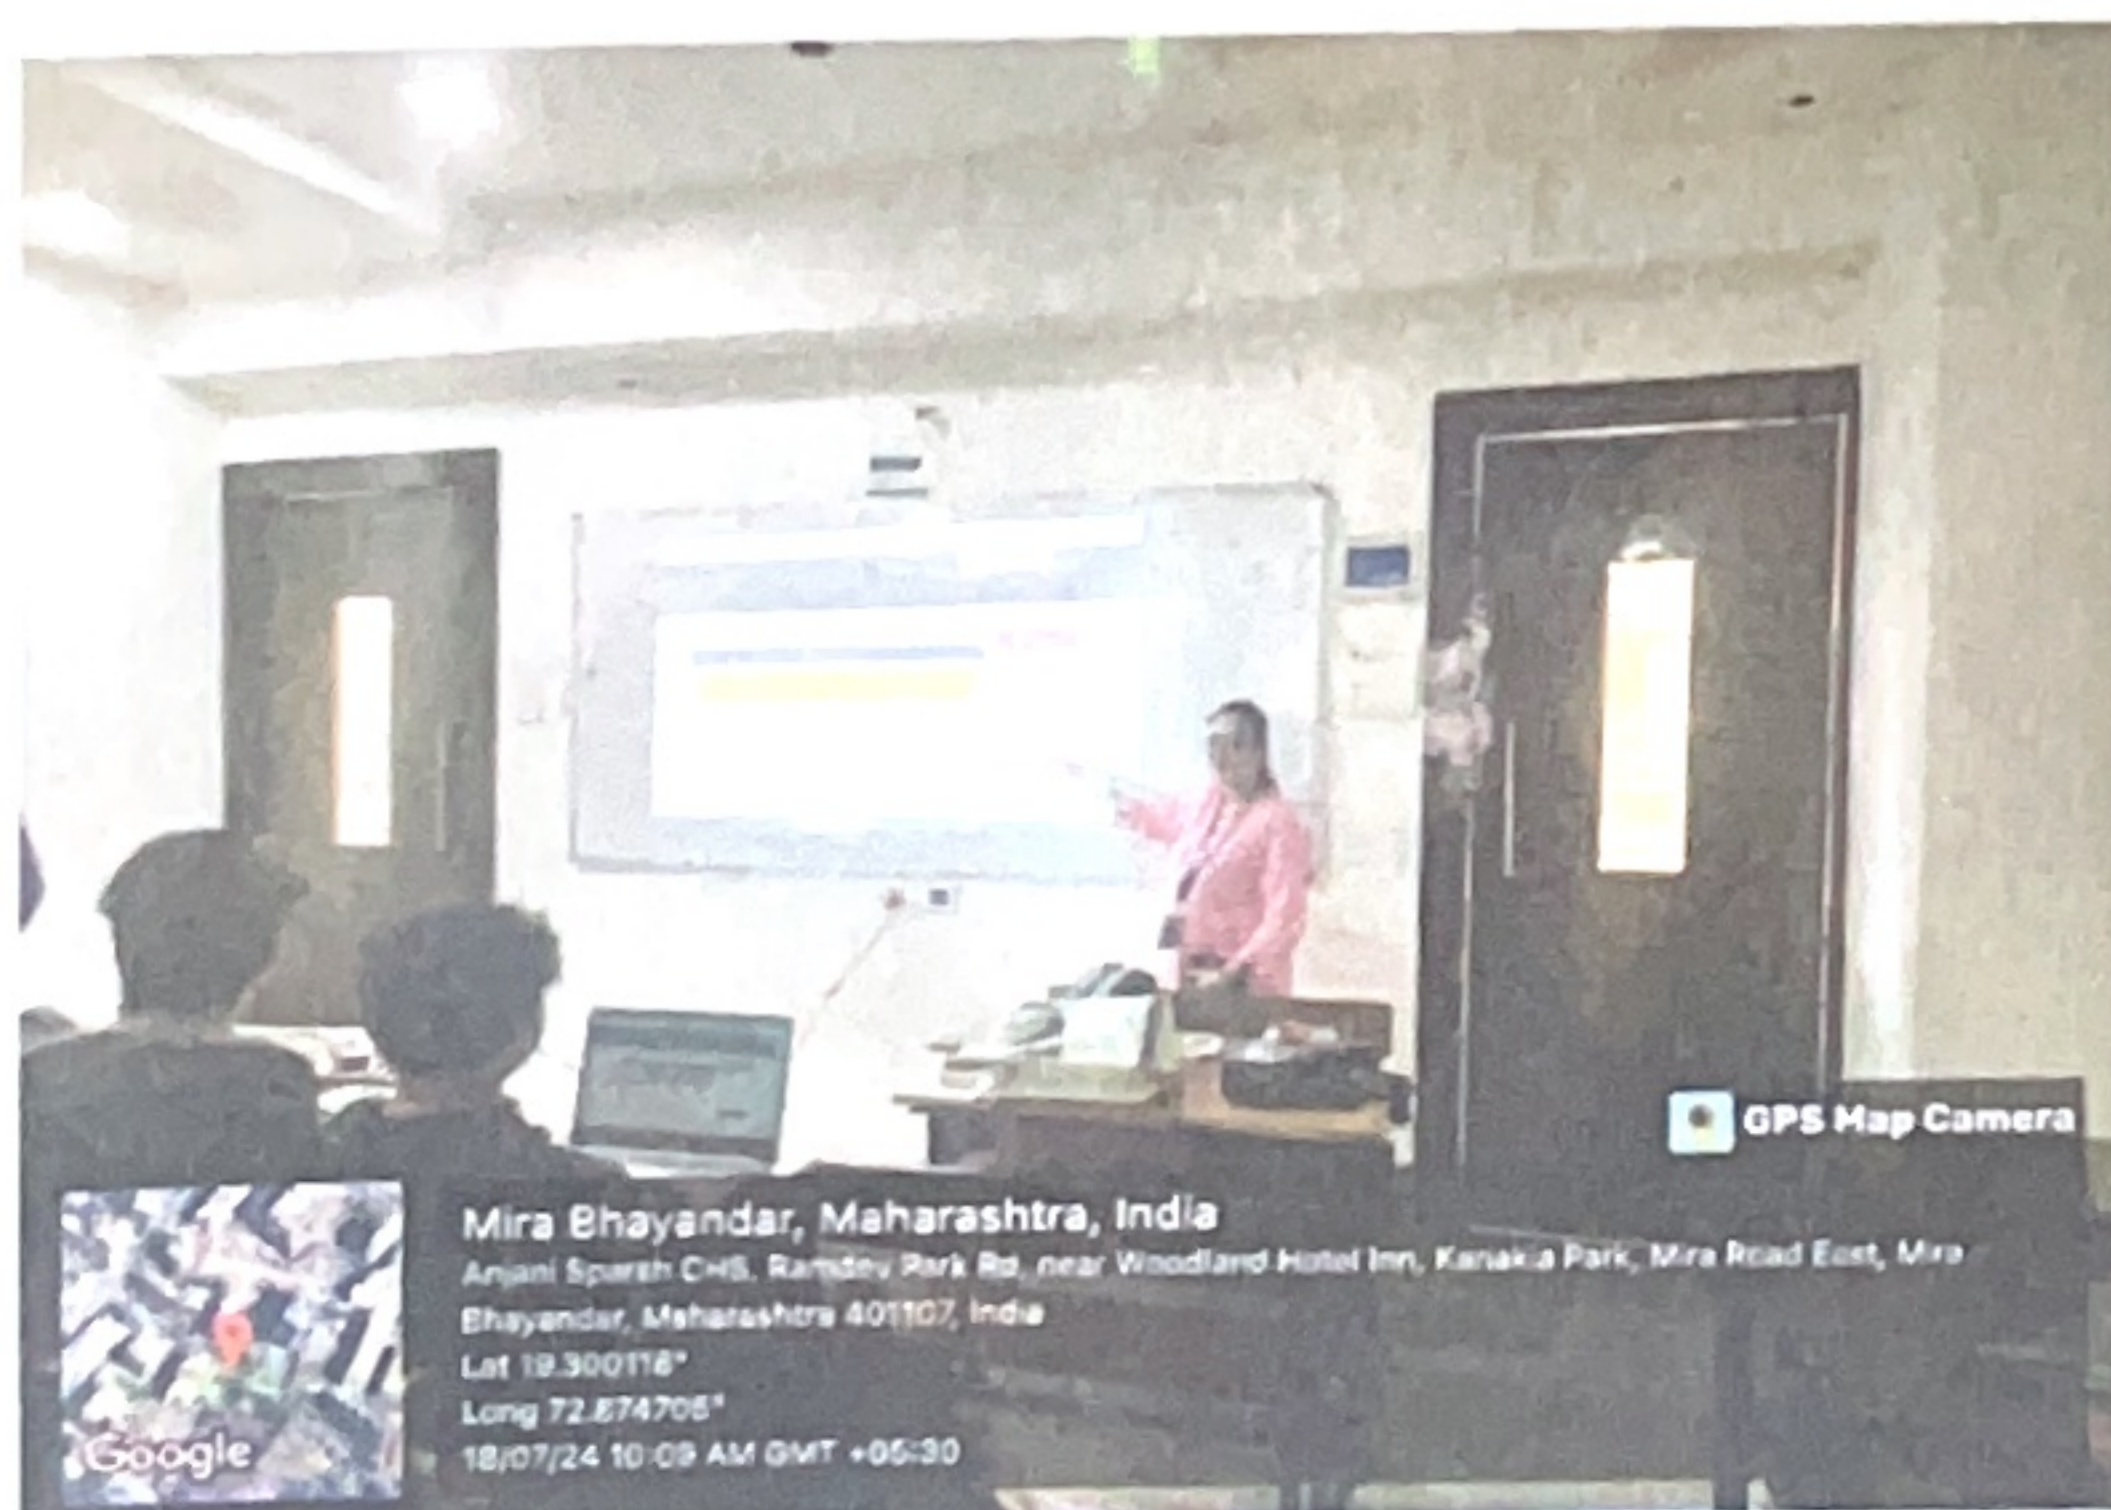

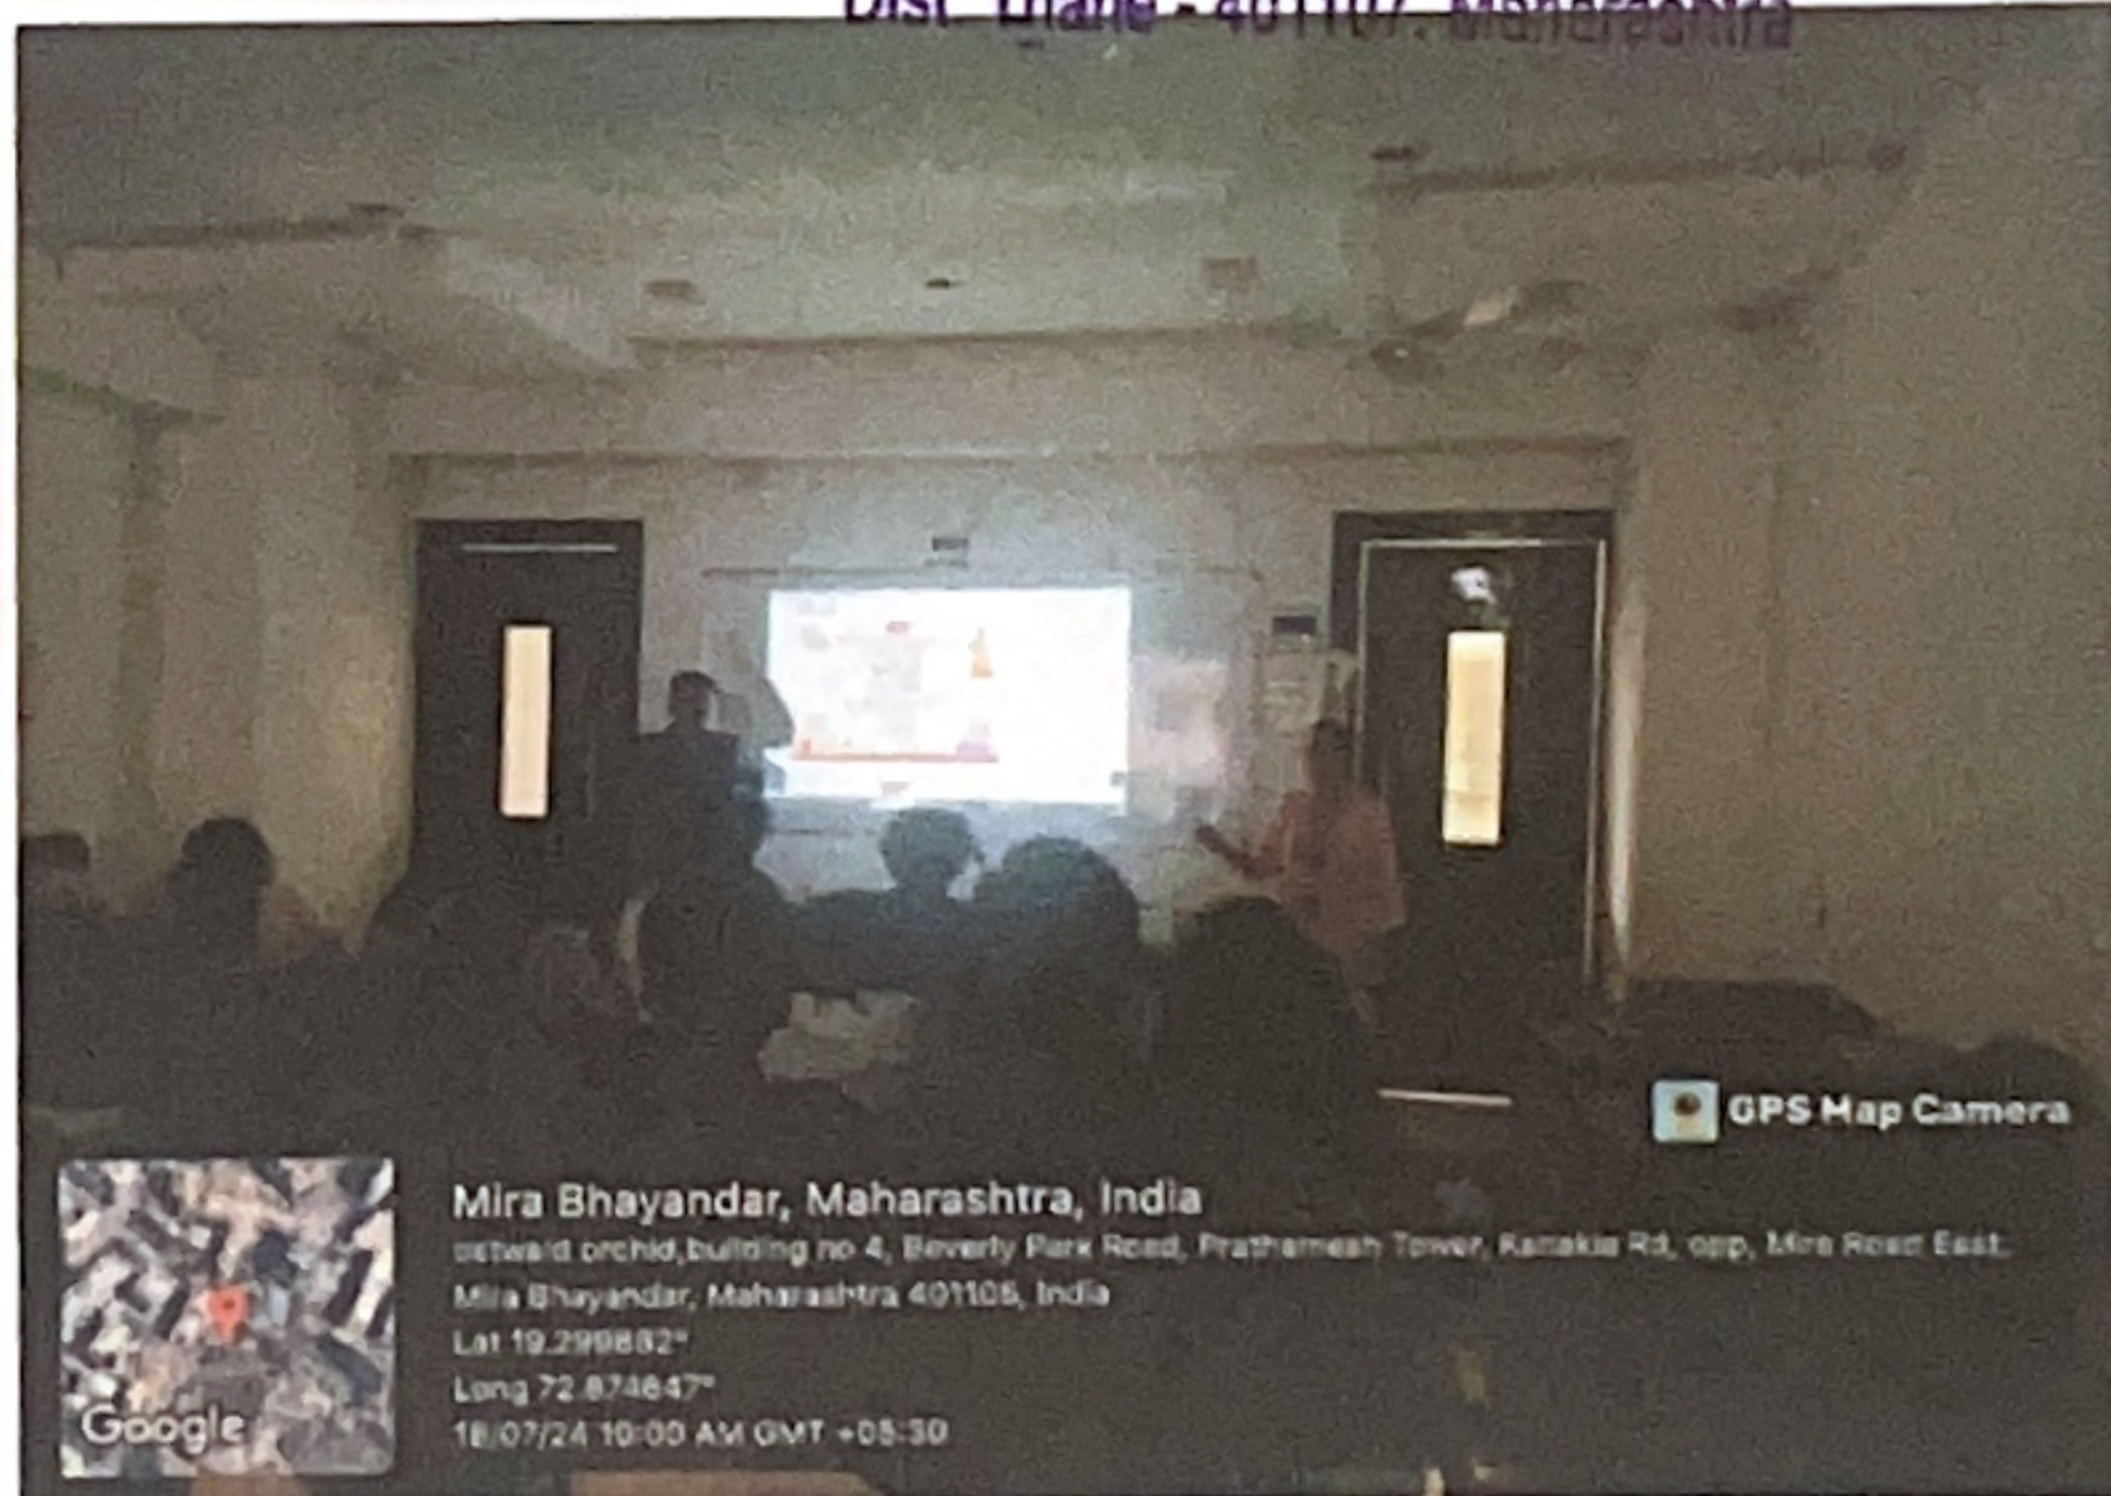

Conclusion:

The Website Orientation Session aimed to empower FY BAMMC students with essential digital literacy skills and knowledge, setting a strong foundation for their academic success at SLRTDC.
