Report on Industrial Visit to RO Water Purification Factory and Brick-Making Factory at Kasarali Village

Date of Visit: 30th December 2024

Time: 11 AM

Organized by: B.Com Department

Venue: RO Water Purification Factory & Brick-Making Unit, Kasarali Village, Vaitarna,

Palghar Participants: B.Com Students attending the 7-Day NSS Residential Camp at Kasarali Village

Introduction

An industrial visit was organized by the B.Com Department as part of the ongoing 7-Day NSS Residential Camp at Kasarali Village. The visit was conducted on 30th December 2024 for the B.Com students participating in the camp. The objective was to provide practical exposure to small-scale rural industries and offer experiential learning opportunities aligned with academic knowledge.

Objectives of the Visit

- To provide students with practical insights into the functioning of small-scale rural industries and their impact on the local economy.
- To connect academic concepts with real-world industrial processes and encourage entrepreneurial thinking among students.
- To help students understand the operational challenges and opportunities faced by rural-based businesses.

Description of the Visit

The visit comprised two main stops: the RO Water Purification Factory and the Brick-Making Factory, both located in Kasarali Village, Vaitarna, Palghar.

1. RO Water Purification Factory:
Students observed the water purification process, understood the technology and machinery involved, and learned about the importance of clean water supply in rural areas. The factory highlighted sustainable and cost-effective solutions for local communities.
2. Brick-Making Factory:
The group studied the manufacturing process of bricks, from raw material preparation to the final product. They also learned about the challenges related to production, quality control, and marketing in rural settings.

Outcomes

- Students gained firsthand knowledge of how small rural industries operate and contribute to the village economy.

- The visit provided an opportunity to relate theoretical business concepts to practical industrial scenarios.
- The experience motivated students to think innovatively about rural entrepreneurship and the potential for business development in village areas.
- Participants developed an understanding of the challenges faced by rural industries, such as resource constraints and market access.

Conclusion

The industrial visit to Kasarali Village was a valuable educational experience for the B.Com students attending the NSS Residential Camp. It successfully bridged the gap between classroom learning and real-world industry practices. The visit fostered awareness of rural industrial development and encouraged students to explore entrepreneurial ventures in such sectors.
