1. Objective of the Event

- To provide a platform for students to present their innovative ideas, prototypes, and projects before a panel of experts and peers.
- To foster creativity, critical thinking, and an entrepreneurial approach among participants.
- To give participants the opportunity to demonstrate their working prototypes and gain hands-on presentation experience.
- To enable participants to receive valuable feedback and guidance from experienced judges/professionals.
- To help students refine their projects for real-world application and future development.
- To act as a preparatory event for participants who will represent the institute in the "Avishkar Research Convention" organized by Mumbai University.

2. Description of the Event

- The "Idea Showcase – Demo Day" was organized by the Research and Development Cell of SLRTDC on 10th November 2025 in Room No. 201, New Building. The event began at 10:30 AM and witnessed enthusiastic participation from students across various departments.
- Participants presented their innovative ideas and working prototypes, highlighting the problem addressed, design process, functionality, and potential social or industrial impact of their projects. Each team demonstrated their model before the judge, Dr. Mayur Dubey, Director – Incubation, Rahul Education, who evaluated the presentations and provided constructive feedback.
- The session was highly interactive and served as a practical learning experience for participants, helping them understand how to effectively pitch their ideas and explain their research outcomes. This event also served as an internal screening and mentoring session for students preparing to participate in the Mumbai University's Avishkar Research Convention.

3. Outcomes of the Event

- Students successfully presented and demonstrated their working prototypes with confidence and clarity.
- Participants received expert feedback and mentorship from judge to improve their technical and presentation aspects.
- The event helped participants identify areas for further improvement before the Avishkar competition.
- Students gained hands-on experience in idea pitching, prototyping, and project explanation.
- The event encouraged a culture of innovation and research-based learning within the institution.
- It promoted collaboration and teamwork, as students worked together to refine and present their projects.
- Participants showed increased readiness to compete at the university level and represent the institute effectively.

4. Conclusion

- The "Idea Showcase – Demo Day" proved to be a successful initiative by the Research and Development Cell of SLRTDC. It provided an excellent opportunity for students to showcase their creativity, innovation, and research potential. The event served as both a learning and preparatory platform for participants moving on to the Avishkar Research Convention.
- The constructive suggestions and guidance from the judge added immense value to the participants' projects. Overall, the event achieved its goal of nurturing a spirit of innovation and research among students and encouraging them to pursue creative solutions to real-world challenges.
