The Global Education Fair was organized by the IQAC in collaboration with SWAYAM and International Courses to provide students with insights into higher education opportunities worldwide. The event aimed to connect students with representatives from various universities, helping them explore academic programs, scholarships, and career prospects on a global scale.

Role of NSS Volunteers

NSS volunteers actively contributed to the smooth execution of the event by assisting in various organizational tasks. They played a crucial role in coordinating with university representatives, guiding students, managing registration desks, and ensuring the seamless flow of interactive sessions.

Objectives:

- Provide students with information about higher education opportunities abroad.
- Facilitate interactions between students and representatives from reputed international universities.
- Educate participants about scholarships, visa processes, and academic requirements.

Preparation:

NSS volunteers supported the event by helping with logistical arrangements, setting up informational booths, distributing brochures, and assisting education consultants. They also ensured that digital guides and interactive sessions were accessible to students seeking higher education guidance.

Event Execution:

The event featured:

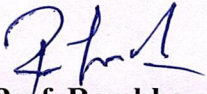

- Awareness sessions on global higher education trends and career opportunities.
- Interactive discussions with university representatives and alumni.
- Presentations on scholarship opportunities, visa procedures, and admission processes.
- One-on-one counseling sessions for students seeking personalized guidance.

Outcome:

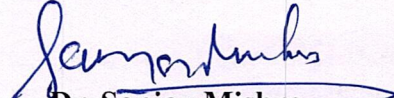

- Students gained valuable insights into global education opportunities.
- Participants connected with representatives from reputed international universities.
- Attendees received guidance on scholarships, visa processes, and academic requirements.

The dedication and efforts of NSS volunteers significantly contributed to the success of the event, ensuring that students could explore their higher education aspirations in a well-organized and informative environment.
