Report :

The Department of Lifelong Learning & Extension (DLLE), in collaboration with the Green Campus Committee (GCC), of Shree L. R. Tiwari Degree College of Arts, Commerce & Science, successfully organized a creative and eco-friendly competition titled "Waste to Wonder – Transforming Trash into Treasure" on 14th November 2025. The event aimed to promote sustainability, creativity, and environmental awareness among students.

The competition commenced at 10:30 a.m. in Room No. 102, Old Building, with enthusiastic participation from students across various streams.

Objectives of the Event:

1. To encourage creativity and innovation through the art of upcycling.
2. To promote environmental consciousness and sustainable practices among students.
3. To inspire the student community to convert waste materials into aesthetically appealing and useful items.

Events Outcome:

1. Students showcased enhanced creativity and innovation through effective upcycling of waste materials.
2. Participants developed increased environmental awareness and responsibility toward sustainable practices.
3. Students practically applied sustainability concepts by transforming waste into useful and aesthetic products.

Event Highlights:

Participants showcased a diverse range of upcycled creations made entirely from waste materials such as plastic bottles, cardboard, paper, fabric scraps, tin cans, and more. The entries were judged based on creativity, utility, and environmental relevance. The room was filled with vibrant and innovative displays, demonstrating students' commitment to sustainability and artistic expression. The final products reflected exceptional craftsmanship and thoughtful use of discarded resources.

Judgment and Results:

The panel of judges evaluated each entry carefully, appreciating the students' effort, imagination, and environmental awareness.
