Report on the Seminar on VFX & Animation

Date: 10th August 2026
Venue: Room No. 103 (Old Building), Shree L. R. Tiwari Degree College
Organized by: BAMMC Department in collaboration with Storyboard VFX & Animation Institute

Introduction:

The BAMMC Department of Shree L. R. Tiwari Degree College, in collaboration with Storyboard VFX & Animation Institute, organized a seminar on Visual Effects (VFX) and Animation on 10th August 2026. The session was conducted for the students of the college and aimed to provide them with valuable insights into the creative and technical dimensions of the VFX and animation industry.

Purpose of the Seminar:

The seminar was organized to introduce students to the application of VFX and animation in advertising and filmmaking across the pre-production, production, and post-production stages. It also aimed to provide students with practical exposure to basic animation and visual effects techniques through interactive software-based sessions, along with an understanding of the creative processes involved in films and other media.

Key Highlights of the Seminar:

- The session introduced students to the creative and technical aspects of Visual Effects (VFX) and Animation and their growing relevance in the media and entertainment industry.
- Students were familiarized with the use of VFX and animation in advertising and filmmaking, with emphasis on their role across pre-production, production, and post-production stages.
- Interactive software-based demonstrations provided students with an understanding of basic animation and visual effects techniques.
- Live demonstrations helped students observe the creative processes involved in developing visual effects and animation for films and media.
- The session also provided students with an opportunity to interact with industry experts and gain insights into career opportunities in the rapidly growing field of VFX and Animation.

Learning Outcomes:

- Enhanced understanding of the creative and technical dimensions of VFX and Animation.
- Awareness of the application of VFX and animation in advertising and filmmaking.
- Basic exposure to animation and visual effects techniques through interactive demonstrations.

- Better understanding of the role of VFX and animation across pre-production, production, and post-production stages.
- Awareness of career opportunities and the scope of the VFX and Animation industry.

Conclusion:

The seminar on VFX & Animation was an enriching learning experience for the students, providing them with meaningful exposure to the artistic and technical dimensions of visual effects and animation. The combination of conceptual inputs, interactive software-based sessions, live demonstrations, and industry interaction helped students connect their academic learning with practical applications and emerging career opportunities. The department extends its sincere gratitude to Storyboard VFX & Animation Institute for its collaboration and valuable guidance.
