An Orientation Programme was organized by the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) for the Second- and Third-Year students of the college on 12th June, 2025 in college Auditorium. The orientation programme commenced with a solemn and traditional lighting of the lamp ceremony, symbolizing the dispelling of ignorance and the ushering in of knowledge. The dignitaries, faculty members, and student representatives participated in the ceremony, creating an atmosphere of positivity and reverence.

The purpose of the session was to familiarize students with recent institutional developments, updates in academic and administrative processes, and to re-align them with the vision and values of the institution. The orientation also aimed to promote active participation in quality enhancement initiatives, student development programs, and campus engagements.

This was followed by the felicitation of the Principal, Dr. Sanjay Mishra, in recognition of his continuous leadership and contributions to the holistic development of the institution. Dr. Mishra was presented with a token of appreciation by the organizers.

Following the formal inauguration, Dr. Sanjay Mishra addressed the students and led the orientation session. In his insightful presentation, he welcomed the Second- and Third-Year students back to the campus and emphasized the importance of discipline, consistency, and active engagement in academic and extracurricular domains. He provided an overview of the institution's progress, NAAC achievements, and future plans aligned with the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020. His address motivated the students to take ownership of their learning journey and contribute meaningfully to the college community.

During the orientation, students were informed about significant institutional developments, including the introduction of new value-added and certificate courses, the implementation of the NEP 2020 academic reforms, the college's recent NAAC accreditation, and upgrades in infrastructure such as the library and ICT-enabled classrooms. Updates on academics covered revised curriculum structures, assessment patterns, the use of Learning Management Systems (LMS) like Google Classroom, and guidelines for project work, internships, and field visits. The orientation also highlighted various student support systems, including mentoring and counseling services, the Student Development Cell, Placement Cell, DLLE, grievance redressal mechanisms, anti-ragging measures, and awareness about scholarships and financial aid. Students were encouraged to actively participate in co-curricular and extracurricular activities, including upcoming events, competitions, and involvement in student committees, NSS, NCC, and cultural units. Emphasis was placed on institutional values and discipline, such as adherence to the code of conduct, regular attendance, punctuality, integrity, inclusivity, and maintaining campus decorum and cleanliness.

Outcomes of the Orientation:

- Students gained clarity on institutional changes and upcoming academic expectations.
- Enhanced awareness of support systems and resources available on campus.
- Increased registration and participation in student committees and clubs.
- Students showed interest in value-added courses and internship opportunities.
- Better preparedness among students to engage with new teaching-learning practices and assessment methods.

The orientation served as an effective platform to reconnect continuing students with institutional goals and upcoming initiatives. It ensured that students are well-informed, motivated, and aligned with the academic and co-curricular roadmap of the college. The session concluded with a Q&A round to clarify student queries and encourage open communication.
